

Site is up!

Wednesday, 01 August 2007

After a short vacation the modernized site is online. It will serve as a showcase for client and non-client products and services that have been released.

bitBrain Studios, apart from 3D and programming, can now also provide products and services to build client sites! Whether it be entire Joomla or MODx sites including site building, design, installation, design and graphics or writing custom templates for existing sites.

We can help you up and running your modernized website!

Also keep an eye on present and coming web enabling products, like the FontSheet Maker. Next product planned is an automatic, visual custom template builder.
