

New Site Design

Saturday, 06 November 2010

What a difference a file makes!

Still using a distinct design and not quite succumbing to the white background, black text boredom, this design was made in 3.5 hours. Some details have been adjusted since, as needs arose.

With no structural changes, this is simply a new Photoshop+CSS design. If you wish, you can compare it to the 2004 design of our 'clone' site, bitbrainstudios.com. The intent is to move the site to this web address, so see you there!

It was time for a change. Hope you like it!
